

Business students reap rewards

JUANITA WADE
(centre), principal
of Harrison College, with her
winning teams.
(Pictures by Kenmore Bynoe.)

DOZENS OF YOUNG PEOPLE were commended and rewarded for their creativity and business skills when the Business Entrepreneurship Foundation (BEF) held the 2016 Flow/BEF $20 Challenge awards ceremony at Concorde Experience on Saturday.

Now in its fifth year, the programme involves lending $20 to students, who then use the money to launch businesses with the aim of repaying the original loan and making a profit, as well as developing a sense of business.

This year a charity component was added and the successful businesses made donations to various groups.

Fittingly, there was no featured speaker as the winning students were given the opportunity to expound on the valuable lessons they had learnt and how such knowledge would benefit them later in life.

Students demonstrated a high level of awareness and confidence in their speeches, with most of them stressing the need for tenacity to become successful after initial setbacks.

The overall title was shared between Aurora-Rain Worme of Codrington International School and Sierra Hamblin of Harrison College. Both of those schools picked up the lion's share of awards.

Later in the night, Keith Miller, who conceptualised the Flow/BEF $20 Challenge, paid tribute to sponsors Flow and Scotiabank, whose contributions ensured the continuation of the project.

Miller pointed to the growth of the programme, which saw prizes being greatly enhanced, as well as the development of the participants, who originally baked and sold cakes and snacks but were now embarking on business concepts with a desire for longevity. (KB)

OVERALL CHAMPIONS
Aurora-Rain Worme (left), of Codrington International School, and Sierra Hamblin (right), of Harrison College, after receiving their awards from director of communications at Flow, Marilyn Sealy.

AWARD WINNERS . . . AWARD WINNERS

Overall Champions

Aurora-Rain Worme – Codrington International School (Seaweed Solutions)
Sierra Hamblin – Harrison College (Touch of Class)

Award For Perseverance

Jassia Norville and Angelina Walters
– St Winifred's School (Creative Gems)

Award For Resourcefulness

Keira Robertson and Daniella Headley – Unique High School (Daniera's Creations)

Award For Enterprise

Ravel Reid and Derreck Drakes
– The St Michael School (Easy Freezy)

Best Team Work

Ronisha Barrow, Nadira Dottin, Alitha Griffith, Jamie-Lee Richards, Kadajah Leacock and Leah

Taylor – Harrison College (BGLTRD)

Best Niche Market Business

Helena Povey and Giselle Allan
– St Winifred's School (Sunkissed)

Best Creative Industries Business

Brianna Alexander, Teron Agard, David Denny, Rashad Elcock and Shavon Archer
– Alexandra School (AX Exquisite)

Most Dynamic Business

Tashanna Holdipp, Taryn Holdipp and Anna Shepherd – Harrison College (Ahata Charmz Jewellers)

Excellent Branding And Packaging

Emile Netherland, Radha Zelwinger and Abbie Green – Codrington International School (ERA Scrubs)

Excellent Use Of Recycled Materials

Danielle Valdez – Harrison College (Unquoted Signs)

Excellent Marketing

Chara Antrobus, Fayola Wetzels and Amaya Emmanuel – Codrington International School (Dream Lights)

Excellent Research & Product Development

Sharyn Ward-Gittens and Antonia Wood – Harrison College (Per Dio)

School Winners

Jalisha and Jamila Edwards – Daryll Jordan Reeve O'Neal Allamby – Lockerbie College
Kaden Richards – Queen's College
Ramario Walcott – St George Secondary
Amanda Collins – Ursuline Convent School

VICKY MAYERS (right), a teacher at Codrington International, sharing a proud moment with her winning teams.